PEGASUS

WASHINGTON COLLEGE

This book is dedicated to Dr. Joseph H. McLain. Dr. McLain parted our company July 25, 1981. He was a fine man who dedicated his life to Washington College. He shall be sorely missed.

The 1981 PEGASUS is different from its predecessors, in that it is not a cutely-captioned volume. Rather, this PEGASUS is a collection of images, to evoke memories, without words to tell you what to remember. As the reader or viewer it is your responsibility to add, to the photographic images, your own captions. We feel that this will enhance the role of the reader. It is our hope that the PEGASUS will serve to satisfy those distant, nostalgic moments in representing a more vivid and realistic remembrance of the past year.

We feel this statement made by Dr. Charles Merdinger is befitting as Washington College approaches its bicentennial and we, the 199th class embarks into the real world- "So, we have this very fine college now, the product of the dreams and accomplishments of countless men and women over a period of nearly two hundred years. WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE?"

COMMENCEMENT

Two broken chairs dream up this morning's commotion.
so here are the end bits, the shorn planks,
nailed together and propped

under a haze of flashbulbs, parchment, a dry rustle.
The benevolent air squats, tests equipment.
We smile. New life.

When did the digitals ever stop,
stop ticking off a count
like tiny numerical riddles, when did the may skies fill and pour, unsuspected.

Yet, we knew, somehow,
in the humid eye, in the calm settle

of one slow tear: by this we measure
ourselves year after frantic year,
By placid swells, by seas

barely discerned in the mind.
And the native lull
of a ripe mumering beneath patterns set for a crowd, two chairs, a commencement.
